

Rachael Trihey

YOUmanity Co-CEO &
Co-Founder B.Business

Rachael has led workforce outcomes across education, government, financial services and community services sectors for decades. An experienced Board Director, CEO, entrepreneur and energised executive search and talent advisory professional, she has verifiable success connecting people to organisations to support business growth and sustainability. Rachael lends lived commercial expertise to her people advisory work.

In addition to her executive search, career and talent advisory work Rachael has co-founded 2 charities whose purpose it was to support those vulnerable to homelessness and family violence. With a passion for child protection and social impact work, she's held board positions on registered charities as well as co-founded technology start-ups and recruitment and advisory firms.

A born connector, Rachael is well known for her tenacity in connecting those who have a need with those who can deliver.
