

Neil Thomas

Director, Health Care
Innovation & Strategy

With over 20 years of experience working in the medical industry Neil has broad hospital experience across Australia and is YOUmanity's Health Care lead and strategist.

His career has seen him work in the medical technology sector and the medical product sector supporting patient care outcomes in orthopaedics, neurology, gynaecology, urology, ENT, cardio, and infectious diseases.

Having worked at a State, National and International level Neil has an intricate knowledge of the Australian health care system. His experience at partnering with companies, hospitals and the relevant key opinion leaders to deliver road-maps to commercial success in the Australian Health Care system, provides an invaluable level of experience to the way in which YOUmanity supports client growth and innovation within the health care sector.

Neil has been involved in multiple medical start up organisations. Co-founding, scaling, and selling Oceania Orthopaedics to Life Healthcare in 2017. A commercially astute and pragmatic executive, his advice is based on a detailed understanding of the public and private hospital systems, health insurance providers, State and Federal health bureaucracy requirements and the supply chain processes.

In his personal time Neil loves watching Top Gear with his son, tinkering with and riding motor bikes and supporting the local physios with his commitment to Masters soccer!